

Aird Community Trust

Application for membership

Aird Community Trust is a Scottish Charitable Organisation (SCIO) with a broad range of charitable purposes to make life better for people in the Kirkhill and Bunchrew Community Council area (including Cabrich and Clunes). In particular, the Trust runs the Kirkhill Community Centre, manages local woodlands, has provided playpark equipment, looks after and develops new access paths, operates a community café, and provides Christmas lights for Kirkhill. In future the Trust will look to maintain and expand what it does to meet the needs of the community.

For further information, including the Trust's constitution, please see www.kirkhillandbunchrew.org.uk

Membership criteria

Applications to join Aird Community Trust as a full member are welcome from any individual aged 16 or over whose main residence (at least 6 months of the year) is in the area.

Associate, non-voting, membership, is open to individual's aged 16 or over who are interested in the area but live elsewhere.

Members have the right to attend members' meetings (including any annual general meeting) and in the case of full members have important powers under the constitution. In particular, full members appoint charity trustees to serve on the board and manage the organisation.

There is no membership fee or plans to introduce one.
